MCGs or Medical Care Gaps is the difference between what you should have received as a part of your medical care as recommended by the national standards compared to what you received. The term MCG to denote these gaps was first coined (1996) by Dr Anup, MD from ARAM Total Health Management. Today MCGs remain one of the most important deficiency in the medical care we receive costing the payers billions a dollars a year. Dr Anup, MD here discusses what MCGs are and how can one get rid of them to live a healthy and happy long life. Here is how to find out gaps in your medical care and fix them before it is too late. Internet Access Required. This DVD comes with an access card. To use the card internet access is required. This card will help you generate a list of your MCGs and will guide you to work with your provider/doctor to fix them through a to-do list called Action Cards.
